

School Improvement and School Choice

Update for the 2013-14 school year:□

The State of Texas has submitted a waiver request to the US Department of Education (USDE) regarding Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). Until the State receives a response from the USDE regarding the waiver request, the School Choice Transfer program is on hold.

Please note that students transferred in previous school years under AYP are eligible to remain at their new campus through the highest grade level offered at that campus. As long as they remain enrolled at the new campus, they are not required to reapply for AYP transfers every year.

As soon as the State provides further guidance, this site will be updated.
