A Series of Meetings Scheduled for Community Input

WHAT: School Renovations Design Community Meetings

The design phase of the SAISD Bond 2010 projects gets underway with a series of community meetings scheduled throughout June and July for those schools receiving major renovations. This is the first phase of a three-phase design process for the bond-funded renovation projects. During phase I, the bond management team is looking for community feedback for the site master-planning efforts for each of the schools. Meetings will give the opportunity for the community to meet and talk to the architectural team chosen to renovate each school, as well as provide feedback on various external site elements, such as: parking, landscaping, traffic, drainage, etc.
