

Even though you might not have the courage to get the vaccine it is something we need you to do so we keep each other safe. Not only will this help us stop the spread, but it can help you and decrease the risk of you getting this virus.

Yes, it is okay for you to feel nervous while you go and take this vaccine. Now at this point I can tell you the more people we get to take this vaccine the less danger. If you are above the age to do this it's a big advantage you are getting to being the first among other people still waiting for their appointment.

Now on this Wednesday, our school is going to be providing vaccinations for anyone among the community. Our clinic will have good people helping you around and making sure you are comfortably instructed by this time. Make sure to make your appointments! (This includes any form of identification, please bring it with you.)

Sincerely,
Milliana R
