

As the moon positioned Itself perfectly between the land in Central Texas and the sun on Saturday morning, school parking lots and fields were filled with the SAISD Familia eagerly watching the Ring of Fire emerge from the rare annular eclipse. Nore than 40 campuses across the district hosted Eclipse Watch parties Saturday, filled with educational materials for families created by the Science and STEM departments. Pictured are commulty members from the gathering at Democracy Prep at Stewart.

Members of the San Antonio ISD Children's Cabinet participated in a panel discussion about rightsizing at its Oct. 13 meeting, the third gathering of the group of parents, educators, community members and national leaders that help guide and monitor the implementation of the distric's Always Learning strategic management plan. After updates from district staff, the panel, which included principals, legal coursel, a parent, and representation of the San Antonio Alliance, gave honest opinions about their experiences with the rightsizing process so far.

Read More

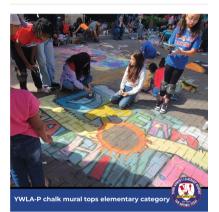

ah Hernandez, a ninth grade student at St. Philip's Early Col rted building her passion for science, specifically space exp ege High School, ration, at an ear ed building her passion for sci andez remembers being fasci go her Pre-K classes. "Tve kno andez said. "I always enjoyed e and astronomy-themed thin as one of three students in tl pted to the WEX Foundation's ram that allows students to w essionals to tackle real-world s ated to astro uts and space Head Start," with a e kno wn I wante ed to be naut since Hea an astronaut since Head Sta d cartoons that talked about d headfirst into those things 30 students in the city to be three-year NASA-commission space and other industry hallenges. What's more — shi re scientiste even younger th d th kids' sł e has j igs t in the district and or on's LCATS program,

Read More

Abby Ramos pursued teaching for the most simple and noble of reasons: she wanted to make a difference in the word. The veteran middle school Engine Inanguage Arts and Reading teacher has done just that Jeveraging the power of literacy to change lives. Ramos, one of the district's Distinguished freachers of the Year for 2022-2023, than onw received meXHS 5 EVCEL. Alward for SAIDS. Do the was presented with an apple trophy and a $1,000 grant from Credit Human, at a classroom ceremony Sept. 26.

Read More

More than 20 San Antonio 15D schools participated in the 20th annual Artgace Chalk II Up Saturday, creating large chalk murals along Houston Street corresponding to this year's theme, foream Bigl At the end of the festival, the Young Worne's Leadership Academy-Primary Bike. Jays had quite the surprise when they learned they had one first place. In the elementary category for the whole competition. Read more about their mural and see some of the other art created at the event.

In honor of Cybersecurity Awareness Month, the Office of Information Technology and the SAISD Foundation have teamed for the third annual Cybersecurity art contest. Students had the opportunity to create original works of art that conveyed themes in cybersecurity. In each grade level category (K. 5, 6-6, 9-12), first and second place winners were named, receiving prizes funded by the SAISD Foundation of 550 and 257, respective). Several honorable mentions were also named for each tadegory and all recognized places are rotating through as lock screens on district devices this month. Pictured is Aubriella at Neal Elementary, who received her prize this alternoon.

Read More

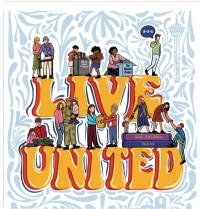

Transportation collects costumes for a cause

n Sp R Inator Sandra Herrera showed her coworkers in cy about a costume drive for hospitalized children with team was moved. The story, which ran Oct. 10, Hert, who had been treated for leakemia and is now in causes o close to a team member, Director of ged the Foundation to find out if SAISD could be part al donation box was delivered the next day. In a little collected more than 20 costumes, filling the box, tions. Herrera (left) poses with the routing team and collected: AT-12 ĸ on, the t the Stay Strong featured Herre g Fi undat a's grandsoi Gilt leatured Herrera's grandso remission. Wanting to supp Operations Katelyn Saenz I of the costume drive. Their over a week, the departme plus other additional online some of the costumes they t a cau saged th cial dona as collec ns. Her co

Three is still time to donate candy to the San Antonio 15D Police Department Candy Drive. The police department is collection gandy that officers will then destribute to students on Halloween. Drop off donations at the Quincy Central Office Building Suite 1500. You can also call (210) 354-9000 to arrange a campus pickup. Deadline is Oct. 27.

Have you pledged to United Way yet? This annual gift is your chance to support our local nonprofits who are helping individuals and families who face challenges concerning employment, mental health, childcare, education and so much more. You are also able to support the SAISD Foundation in this way to give back to the organization that gives so much to our students and teachers. You are able to give via payroll deduction ($$/month minimum), one-time credit or debit card gift ($$

Trustee Ed Garza shares highlights from the October 16, 2023 board meeting

Watch the superintendent's latest Quick Takes with Jaime video STRUEE JOUr Special downpians have been demonstrating their bowling skills at Banders Bowl this month. Last week, elementary students took to the lanes, and this morning academies showed of their skills. Tomorrow our middle and hips school Special Olympians will take their turn. The Joy and accomplishment our students experience in Special Olympics are contagious. The bonds our students have with their teachers and coaches is evident, and part of the commitment SAISD has to providing the best services to the members of our Familia who receive Special Education services. The district recently received the results of our Special Education audit from the Council of the Great City Schools, Informing us as we plan even better service to these important students and families in our community.

SAN ANTONIO INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT 514 W. Quincy St., San Antonio, TX 78212 🔇 210-554-2200 🌐 www.saisd.net

Copyright @ 2023 SAISD, All rights reserved.

insider is a publication of SAISD Communications Department. Questions/comments? Contact insider editor here.